DEATH TOLL IS COMPILED AT 180

Revised Figures on West Virginia
Mine Horror Are Announced by Officials at Noon.

172 BODIES STILL IN MINE
Entrance to Pit Can Not be Gained
Until Tonight When Deadly Cases Clear Away.

(By United Press.)

Eccles, W. Va., April 29.—A revised record at noon today, compiled by officials of the New River Collieries company, gave 180 as the total death list in the mine horror here. A hundred and seventy-two victims are still in mine No. 5. All hope has been abandoned by rescuers that they may be brought out alive. An entrance to the pit can not be made until tonight when deadly gases have cleared away. Eight bodies were recovered today.

A hundred and eighty graves are being dug in the hills surrounding this village for the 180 bodies.

All hope that any of the 180 men entombed by an explosion in the New River mine here are alive was abandoned today. Frantic efforts at rescue were still progressing. There was little chance of gaining entrance to the gas filled and ruined shaft before late this afternoon.

With Governor Hatfield and other state officials at the mine today, the investigation of causes was all ready to proceed. The chief inspector was expected to begin the examination of witnesses this afternoon.

Of the 71 men who were buried in one shaft—No. 6-60 have been taken out alive and 11 dead; of the 109 known to have been in the other—No. 5—not one has been rescued.

Flames and smoke are belching from the crevices of the crumbled shaft, and, although all hope of saving any of the buried men has been abandoned, collier from miles around are risking their lives in an effort to snuff out the flames with earth and water.

The cause of the explosion has not been ascertained, and perhaps never will be known. The New River Company operates six mines at Eccles, Nos. 6 and 5 connect. At 2:30 this afternoon there was a slight explosion in No. 6 followed by another, slightly greater, in No. 5.

Ten minutes later the valley shook with the third blast in No. 6. The timbers over the main shaft, the ventilators and the cages were shot up to the sky and deposited far up the hillside.

The Virginian Railway suspended traffic and rushed a rescue crew of the Panama Coal and Coke Company at Matoaks, several miles away with a number of physicians and nurses.

The Superintendent also called for help from Beckley, another point on the Virginia Railroad, but the Matoak crew in charge of the Federal mine rescue car was the first to arrive. It was then nearly 6 o'clock. The men set to work, but were greatly hampered by the half-crazed women and children who crowded the entrances and endangered their lives near the flame-belching fissures.

It finally became necessary to arm the mines to drive the people back.

The rescuers cleared No. 6 mine and then started to reach No. 5 through the connecting walls of No. 6. The work is progressing slowly, and there is no likelihood that the workers can reach the imprisoned men until tomorrow afternoon.

The buffalo of the United States and Canada now number about three thousand

There are twelve in this year's graduating class and it is the first class to graduate from the new building. The class address will be delivered by Dr. E. G. Lindley of Indiana University. The superintendent of the Milroy school is E. M. Gifford and he has proved very satisfactory and met with success in his work. Music for the commencement will be furnished by the Wagoner orchestra of this city.

PLEASANT A. DAVIS DEAD

Passed Away Near Orange After Long Illness.

Pleasant A. Davis, 31 years old, died this morning at one-thirty o'clock at his home, one-half mile west of Orange after a long illness from tuberculosis. Mr. Davis had been ill for about seven months and spent the winter in the south in the hopes of benefiting his health but it did little good. He had been home only five weeks. He is survived by his widow and two children, Margaret and Estie Davis. The funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at two o'clock in the Orange Christian church and burial will take place in the Orange cemetery.

BURNED IN AN EXPLOSION

Mrs. Lide Ryker Injured by Fire
From Escaping Gas.

Mrs. Lide Ryker was painfully injured late yesterday when gas in the oven of the cook stove at the E. B. Poundstone home, corner of Harrison and Seventh streets, exploded and burned her about the face and hands. The gas was escaping and had filled the oven full when Mrs. Ryker opened it and applied a match. The flames burst into her face and enveloped her arms.

The farmers of Rush county are jubilant today over the libations poured down on Mother Earth by Old Jupe Pluvius last night. The whole county was visited by a heavy rain some time early in the evening. The indications today were for showers. The air was cooled by the rain of last night and today was altogether pleasant. The humidity that generally lingers about between showers and makes fat folks hot under the collar was not apparent today.

Wednesday morning found the roads much benefited by the rain. Some of them had puddles standing in them during part of the morning but the efforts of Old Sol, the Haymaker, dried these up and it was found that most of the ruts had been filled by the dashing raindrops.

In some sections of the county road superintendents took advantage of the wet conditions to drag the roads and thus effectually fill up the ruts more than the rain had done. This, it is thought, will put the highways in good condition for the better part of the summer.

Farmers say that the wheat and newly sown oats had been needing rain. The rain which came was of the right sort—a soaking one.

At the same time the mushroom hunters, of whom there are legion, are busy training their "mushroom dogs" and impatiently waiting for the time of the year when the delicious but elusive fungus may be found.

A peculiar condition exists as regards the fruit crop, it is said. Observers have pointed to the fact that the apple trees are not in bloom. This is very unusual, especially since all of the other kinds of fruit trees are now radiant with blooms. It is not the rule for the apple-trees to be later than any other fruit in blooming.

It is pointed out by fruit growers that frost and freezing weather is not responsible, else other fruit trees would not be blooming. The belief is expressed by many that the apple trees will not be very fertile this year because they were over-fertile last year. As a general rule the apple crop in Indiana last year was not very big, but the Rush county crop was the biggest in the history of the county.

RAILROAD EARNINGS GROW.

San Francisco, April 29.—The earnings of the Geary Street Municipal Street Railway are soaring. The total earnings for March, it was announced today were $58,969. This exceeds by $300 any previous month. The Union Street line, also owned by the city held up its end with a total of $29,715. The average daily earnings of the Union line was $958 and that of the Geary line $1,902.

MEDIATORS ASK ARMISTICE
(By United Press.)

Washington, April 29.—An armistice between Mexico and the United States has been asked by the A. B. C. mediators. The Brazilian ambassador today notified Secretary Bryan that this had been determined upon as the next step in the negotiation. He said Huerta had been notified. It was generally believed this nation would accept the provision provided assurance was given there would be no uprising against Americans in Mexico.

(By United Press.)

Vera Cruz, April 29.—The American land and naval forces holding Vera Cruz were augmented today when four destroyers joined the fleet in the harbor and the liner Morrow Castle pressed into service as a transport, arrived with 900 marines. An additional transport carrying troops also anchored in the harbor, but General Funston's Fifth brigade has not yet been landed.

Vera Cruz was quiet today and there were no disorders reported.

Last night, the first since the occupation of the city by the United States that Mexicans have been permitted to appear on the street after seven o'clock, passed quietly. The natives have accepted the American occupation with good grace now and practically normal conditions have been restored.

News reaching here that 48 more Americans have been arrested by the Federals at Cordoba, making a total of 84 who are in prison there, were as yet unconfirmed today.

An unconfirmed report says that six of the Americans imprisoned there have been taken out and killed. Admiral Fletcher and Consul Canada are making an investigation.

D. F. Anderson, of Texas, Manager of the Mexican Land and Cattle Company, is reported to have been killed at Cosmolopam, about 60 miles south of Vera Cruz, by a mob that went to the Hotel Cosmopolitan last Saturday night to beat him to death because he was an American.

General Funston came ashore and immediately had a long conference with Admiral Fletcher. It was arranged that the troops of the Fifth Brigade should gradually replace the marines and blue jackets, the infantrymen taking positions along the outer lines, as fast as they come

MEETING SET FOR TONIGHT

New Officers of Gun and Country Club Will be Elected.

The postponed annual meeting of the Rushville Gun and Country club will be held at the Rushville National bank this evening. The first meeting which was called was so poorly attended that it was decided to hold another session when a more representative attendance could be depended on. It is urged upon the members that they be present tonight. The chief business of the meeting will be to elect new officers and discuss plans for the summer.

TESTIFIES FOR MAYOR ROBERTS

Usual Spectacle of Prosecutor on Stand For Defense Witnesses at Terre Haute Today.

C. FAIRBANKS IMPLICATED

Terre Haute, Ind., April 29.—The unusual spectacle of a prosecuting attorney testifying for a defendant was given here today when Richard Werneke, prosecuting attorney for Vigo county, testified for Mayor Roberts on trial for election frauds. Werneke testified against various assertions made by witnesses for the state. He is now in charge of the investigation of election frauds.

Chalmers Hamill, former special prosecutor investigating election frauds here, made a statement today in which he implicated Crawford Fairbanks, millionaire brewer and Democratic politician. He said that Judge Fortune was informed shortly before the Taggart-Fairbanks-Roberts-Fortune conference in Indianapolis that Fairbanks would be called before the grand jury "thirty minutes after he leaves town." He was also told that the jury expected this week to indict Tom Beggs, Fairbanks' partner, for election frauds.

RICHARD W. MCKEE DEAD

Passed Away at Home Near Andersonville This Afternoon.

Richard W. McKee, 75 years old, a brother of Mrs. S. H. Trabue of this city, died shortly afternoon today at his home near Andersonville. Mr. McKee suffered a stroke of paralysis eight years ago and never fully recovered. This together with a complication caused his death. Mr. McKee had lived there for the past thirty-five years and was well known. He is survived by his widow and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Laura Stevens, of Fayette county, Frank McKee of Franklin county, Mrs. S. H. Logan of this county, Mrs. S. H. Trabue and D. W. McKee of Connersville. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

NO MORE DRINKS.

St. Louis, April 29.—Drinks on the dance floors at summer gardens or on other dancing pavilions this summer have been tabooed according to Excise Commissioner Anderson today, who said that his ruling would effect Forest Park Hills, Suburban Garden, and other smaller places. Tango "flirts" will now have to miss a dance to quench their thirst for the beer dispensary, always heretofore at their elbows, will have moved to parts more distant.

PROGRAM TO BE FINISHED SOON

Woman Suffrage Will be One of Chief Topics of Discussion at Meeting of Club Women.

WILL BE IN RICHMOND IN MAY

Rush County Women Are Preparing to Attend Convention of District Federation.

Rushville and Rush county women are already making preparations to attend the annual convention of the sixth district Federation of Women's Clubs which will be held in Richmond May 21 and 22.

It is earnestly desired by the club women of Rushville that Rush county will be largely represented at this meeting. This year, it is pointed out, the Rush county club women should begin making their preparations early so as to have the largest delegation present. Last year the sixth district meeting was held at Liberty and Franklin county had the largest delegation.

May 22 will be the biggest day of the two, and it is urged that if local club can not attend both days, that they choose the last day in preference to the first. It is hoped to make this the biggest day the district club women have ever known.

It is declared that it is the duty of every club woman to do her part to help Mrs. J. M. Hamilton of Brookville, the district chairman, who is doing all within her power for the good of the cause. Mrs. Hamilton hopes to have the complete programs ready in a few weeks.

It was announced yesterday by the president of the Richmond federation that woman suffrage will be one of the chief topics for discussion. The woman's suffrage committee of the state federation has asked that it be permitted to have speakers on the program.

Arrangements will be made to accommodate the committee when the program is made out in its entirety next Saturday. Other state departments that have asked to be permitted to send representatives are the blind children's department and the department of library extension.

An exhibit of the manual work of the blind children of the state school will be placed in the public art gallery in the high school building, according to the Richmond Item. It, with the Richmond school exhibit Continued on Page 3.

Why the Advertised Goods are Gen- erally Better

A manufacturer who spends a great sum of money in making his trademark known is building for the future.

That trademark is valuable to him only so long as he makes good.

His investment in good will pay him dividends only so long as he retains that good will.

He has set a high mark and must live up to it.

Manufacturers are turning today to the daily newspapers for their advertising campaigns, because they find that through them the "Good Will" they value so highly can be built up at less expense to themselves than in any other way.

HOME VEGETABLE GARDEN BOOMED

Department of Agriculture Believes
this Better Than "Monkeying"
Around With Flowers

PLANS FOR CHICKEN RAISING

Two Popular Ways Known as the
"Intensive" and "Colony" System.
Both Considered Good.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 29.—The Department of Agriculture is booming the home vegetable garden. Every suburbanite would be better off in devoting his time more to development of edibles than to "monkeying" around with flowers in the plot back of his bungalow, according to the Department's experts.

A half acre devoted to various kinds of garden crops will easily supply a family with $100 worth of vegetables during the year. A bountiful supply of fresh vegetables close at hand, however, is of more importance even than the money value. The Department has just issued a handy little book telling all needful things about the home garden.

First of all, the booklet advises that the land have sufficient fall to drain off the surplus water during heavy rains, but not so much fall that the soil is washed away. The garden surface should not contain depressions where puddles can remain. A good fence around the plot is indispensable. The soil should be well plowed up and pulverized. Hand spading is unnecessary.

Nearly every city dweller sooner or later gets enthusiastic on the subject of chicken raising. So do the country dwellers, for that matter. There has been many wonderful stories of fortunes made out of chicken and egg production. But the prospective chicken raiser must learn his work and do things scientifically, if he expects to get profits.

One of the first things to be learned about chicken raising, in the opinion of the Department has just made public in a little booklet, experts' recommendations for a poultry house that is suitable to practically every climate.

Be it known there are two popular ways in which to raise poultry—the "intensive" and the "colony" system. The first claims to have steps. Long stationary houses are used. It is easier, however, to keep birds healthy and reproduce stock under the second system, the Department believes.

Under the colony plan, the fowls are allowed free range, the houses, which hold about 100 hens each being placed from 200 to 500 feet apart, so that the stock will not kill the grass.

This system may be adopted to severe winter conditions by drawing the colony houses together in a convenient place at the beginning of winter. The "intensive" system is more suited for hens used solely for the production of market eggs than for these used to brood stock.

Fences mean an outlay of money and this outlay is more or less continuous as they must be maintained after being installed. There should be as few fences as possible dividing the lots and the yards, as land can be kept "sweet" more easily if not fenced, and fresh, sweet land is a valuable asset in poultry raising.

On good soil a greensward may be kept up by allowing 200 to 250 square feet of land per bird. This means 217 or 174 birds to the acre. Plymouth Rocks and the other heavy variety meat birds in small yards require fences 5 to 6 feet high, while a fence 6 or 7 feet high is necessary for Leghorns.

All poultry buildings and fences should be painted or whitewashed. The latter is the cheapest of all paints and may be used for exterior or interior surfaces. It can be made by slaking about 10 pounds of quicklime in a pail with 2 gallons of water, covering the pail with a cloth or burlap and allowing to slake for one hour. Water is then applied to bring the whitewash to a consistency which may be applied readily.

The Horticultural Board is out with a warning against seed found in bales of imported Egyptian cotton. Faulty ginning occasionally leaves these seeds. They should be burned as the larvae of the pink bell worm may be contained in the seeds. This pest is very destructive to American cotton. Ginning and storing does not kill the larvae. The "bugs" have been found to withstand seven month storage in cotton.

A strict quarantine has always been maintained against the pink worm. An agent of the Horticultural Board is now visiting northern and southern mills to investigate the amount of infection by the worm in cotton introduced from Egypt.

WITNESSES TALK TODAY.

Washington, April 29.—The Interstate Commerce Commission was scheduled today to proceed with its investigation into the affairs of the Billard Company, which controls the New Haven railroad holdings. Solicitor Folk hoped that armed with proper power to force testimony and documentary evidence from defiant witnesses who at first refused to testify and later agreed to do so, the case would be ready for further procedure today.

A Warning to Many

Some Interesting Facts About Kidney Trouble.

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1912, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper, enclose ten cents and they will gladly forward it to you by Parcel Post.
Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00. (Advertisement.)

We Have Noticed that a FLEA is In a Class by Himself

when it comes to getting results—no matter how big his territory he covers it and after he covers his territory you know he has been there. The only difference between the territory we work in the buggy business and the territory the flea works in is we leave everybody in a satisfied frame of mind and we reckon the flea doesn't. There are lots of fellows selling buggies, however, that are like the flea. They jump over lots of territory, get a bite here and there and don't care whether you are satisfied or not, but we do want your business all the time and that is the reason we make our buggy guarantee as good as old line life insurance. We tell you what to expect from a buggy we sell you and then see that you get it. That is the way we are going to keep what we have and build more. We want you in on this proposition and extend you an invitation to call on us for your vehicle needs.

WIRELESS KILLS BIRDS
(By United Press.)
San Diego, April 28.—Humane Officer Muttors today sent a formal appeal to the government to make its wireless station at Point Lema stop killing pelicans. Pelicans used to be thick in San Diego harbor. Now there are only a few of them. Muttors is sure the powerful radio waves which the station sends out do the mischief. He says he has seen scores of birds suddenly stricken in mid-air fall dead into the water. The waves might be toned down, he thinks, so as to do less danger.

Society News

Mrs. Raymond Bowles was hostess for the Embroidery club of Raleigh this afternoon.

The Bridge club will be entertained tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. O. M. Dale at her home in North Main street.

The meeting of the Auction Bridge club, which was to have been held tomorrow night has been postponed one week on account of the rehearsals for the senior play.

Miss Jessie Stoops' daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Stoops, and Bruce Beck, were quietly married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Taylor in West Tenth street at noon by the Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church. They will be at home in their newly furnished home in North Jackson street. Both are popular clerks at the Mauzy company who have a wide circle of friends.

A surprise was given last evening at the home of Miss Ella Wilson, in East Second street, on Miss Jessie Stoops and Bruce Beck, who will be married soon. The employees of the Mauzy Company store gave the surprise. Twenty-three persons were present. The decorations that were carried out were violets and an orange tree in full blossom made up the back ground. Everyone present had a good time, the evening being spent in a sociable way.

The Ladies Musicales will hold the last meeting of the year this evening at the home of Miss Jessie Kitchen in West Third street. The active members are requested to be present by 7:30 o'clock as a short business session must be held to finish up the business of the year. The meeting is open for guests and the program will begin promptly at 8 p. m. It is as follows:

Organ, Fantasie and Fugue in G minor, J. S. Bach Fantise, Fugue—Miss Jessie Kitchen, Mrs. Hugh Mauzy.

Reading—Miss Leona Lail.

Intermede, Chaminade—Mrs. Hugh Mauzy, Miss Jessie Kitchen.

Spring's Awakening, Willfrid Sander—Miss Edith Buell.

Polonaise, Op. 53, F. Chopin—Miss Jessie Kitchen, Mrs. Hugh Mauzy.

Reading—Miss Leona Lail.

a. Dance of Gnomes, Benjamin Whelpley; b. Serenade, Benjamin Whelpley—Miss Jessie Kitchen, Mrs. Hugh Mauzy.

Les Preludes, F. Litz—Mrs. Hugh Mauzy, Miss Jessie Kitchen.

Miss Susana Horr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Horr, and Joseph H. Buschmohle, were married in the presence of a large company of guests at the Catholic church this morning at seven o'clock by the Rev. M. W. Lyons. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents at eight o'clock. There were forty guests. The bridal party sat at a large table in the center of the room. The bridal table was decorated with a large basket of flowers. The guests sat at small tables, each of which were decorated with small bunches of violets. Miss Margaret Carroll was bridesmaid and Tom Horr, brother of the bride, was the bridegroom's man. The Misses Mary Ellen Carroll, Mary Moorman, Beatrice Mack and Marie McKee served at the wedding breakfast. The guests from a distance were Miss Elizabeth Buschmohle of Cincinnati, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Matilda Boyce of Fort Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Buschmohle will be at home in South Harrison street after May 1. They left this morning for Louisville, Ky., for a wedding trip.

Amusements

The Portola will show a two reel Selig drama "The Up-Hill Climb" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a dramatic production and features Bessie Clayton. The other is a drama "The Winning Mistake."

The Princess will show the feature production "Through Fire to Fortune" or "The Sunken Village" for tonight. It is in five parts and is said to be one of the most remarkable pictures ever made. The thrilling scenes are a fire in a coal mine and then the sinking of the village. It is a Lubin picture and besides the thrilling and wonderful scenes a beautiful story is told.

The Gem offers a two reel 101 Bison feature "Her Father's Guilt" for the first picture tonight. William Clifford, Sherman Bainbridge and Phylliss Gordon are featured. It is said to be a thrilling picture telling a dramatic story. The other is a Joker comedy entitled "The Tender Hearted Sheriff." Max Ascher is featured. Tomorrow night Lois Weber will be featured in the Rex drama "Woman's Burden."

will be a special attraction at the gallery during the convention. An attendance of at least 300 delegates is expected.

Reports of the different committees will be received the afternoon of May 21. The first meeting will be held in the high school auditorium that evening. Prof. Harlow Lindley will deliver an address on "The History of Wayne County." A reception in the art gallery will follow the program. Miss Vida Newsom of Columbus, Ind., president of the state federation will deliver an address the afternoon of May 22.

The chief social event of the convention will be the reception to delegates on the lawn of the residence of William Dudley Foulke by the members of the old Cycle club the afternoon of May 21. If the weather is inclement the reception will take place in the Morrison-Peeves library. Women of the South Eighth Street Friends church will serve luncheon for the delegates at the church at noon of that day.

The Commercial club has promised to place automobiles at the disposal of the women for a sight seeing expedition about the city. The Garfield orchestra and the high school orchestra will be on the program during the convention.

Delegates will be entertained in private homes.

Terre Haute Ever With Us.

Ever now and then we hear from Terre Haute. It has long since been proved that conditions there are

worse than any other city in the state
and it is not at all surprising to note
the thing which has not happened. It is very evident that the rotten condition of Democratic politics in Indiana has directly brought on the present circumstance, which amounts to nothing more than the thwarting
of justice.

Donn M. Roberts, mayor of Terre Haute, who has been on trial for a few weeks for election frauds, is recognized as the premier of politicians in Indiana, with the exception of Tom Taggart. His present state of affluence is largely due to the backing of Crawford Fairbanks, the millionaire brewer of Terre Haute.

But that is nothing more than the stage setting. Judge Chas. M. Fortune started in a few months ago to clean thoroughly the rottenness out of the Vigo county seat. He was progressing very well, with the valuable assistance of Joe Roach a pardoned murderer, and Chalmers Hamill, another special prosecutor who has had charge of the probing grand jury. The investigations could not be conducted in any other way because the prosecutor, Dick Werneke, was one of the men under indictment.

The evidence showed that the prosecution had enough to convince any reasonable jury that the lieutenants in Terre Haute who had been debauching the election should be sent to prison. In fact, one of Roberts'
aids has already been sent up for a term of years.

But yesterday Judge Fortune threw
a bomb into the camp of the prosecution. He dismissed the special prosecutor, Hamill, and the grand jury, on the pretext that the county council would not appropriate any more funds for the probe. The grand jurors and prosecutor straightway offered to work for nothing, but Judge Fortune carried out his pre-arranged
plans.

In a statement, Hamill said he had agreed from the first to work for nothing, and when he accepted the appointment, he had an understanding with Judge Fortune that the prosecution should be pushed to the very end without fear or favor. He made a serious charge in closing as follows "At the time the grand jury

was dismissed Judge Fortune knew
that within the period of this week
there would be returned a number of indictments for the most serious offenses; he also knew that the grand jury was going to investigate the recent primary of April 24, which from the slight investigation I was able to make I believe was colossal in its crime.

"In his action I feel that Judge Fortune has not only violated every duty which a judge owes to members of a bar, but has broken every agreement and promise which he made to me at the outset of the investigation."

The grand jury also issued a long
statement in which it was pointed out the body was in the midst of the investigation of astounding law violations which would have resulted in revealing even more startling things
and in the bringing of even graver
charges.

The Indianapolis News made some pretty plain statements last night in describing the meeting in Indianapolis, which, it is intimated, was largely contributory to the action of Judge
Fortune. The News brings to light
the astounding fact that Fairbanks,
Taggart, Roberts and Fortune were all housed in the Denison hotel in Indianapolis at the same time. Of course, since there is no absolute proof, it is not charged outright that
the deal was planned in the Denison,
but it will have to be admitted that it looks mighty suspicious. Those four men were in the hotel at the same time and a person has a right to guess, at least, that they held a conference.

Some're Tom's Wit.

Tom Worthington must have his little jokes. He has just returned from his usual sojourn in the southeastern insane hospital at Madison. It is just like taking a trip to Florida every winter, steam heat and everything like that, you know. Tom is quite a wit, as you must know, because Sunday, soon after his return
here, he mounted the top of the Peoples National bank building and walked about the topmost ledge reeling
and waving his hands.

Tom is reported to have told a story of the little joke he has on one of the guards at Indiana's institution. Tom once sighted a clock on the wall. He surveyed it at length and then asked the guard what it was.

"Why, it's a clock, of course, you fool," replied the guard.

"Does it keep time," persisted Tom.

"Yes," answered the guard.

"Is it all right?"

"Of course, it's all right," said the guard with finality, and turned on his heel.

"What's it doing here, then," demanded Tom.

REPLIES TO THE STATE AUDITOR

Statement From Republican State
Headquarters says he Juggled
Figures in Marion Speech

WHEN REPLYING TO MAXWELL

Handly Administration Turned Over
to Marshall a Neat Balance Instead of a Deficiency

The Republican state committee last night gave out a statement replying to the address of Auditor of State
O'Brien at Marion last Thursday night. O'Brien at that time replied to the "keynote" speech of Howard Maxwell, temporary chairman of the Republican state convention.

O'Brien attempted to show that Maxwell had misrepresented the Democratic state administration,
which he charged with extravagance.
The statement follows in part:

"The state auditor says that the Handly administration turned over to the Marshall administration a deficiency of $1,400,000. Instead of this he should have said that the Handly administration paid all maturing bills and appropriations in 1908 and turned a general fund balance of $493,117.46 over to the Marshall administration in 1909, for this is what the auditor's ledger and his printed reports show.

"The state auditor makes the statement that Maxwell neglected to state that in 1908 the Handly administration expanded $506,778.30 more than is collected. The answer to this is that Mr. O'Brien should have said that the year of 1907 closed
with a general balance fund of $897,- 627.61; that in 1908 the Handly administration paid all bills over to his successor for 1909, $493,117.46. He should have said further that buildings erected during the Handly administration made slow progress in 1907 and allowed the money to accumulate in the treasury, but in 1908
these buildings were being pushed to completion and the treasury was called on to pay for the work done
in 1908 that should have been done in 1907. Mr. O'Brien referred to the payments of the old war claim of $635,859.20 and that Governor Durbin applied this on the state debt.
But Mr. O'Brien did not tell his audience that during the Durbin administration there was paid on the state debt the grand sum of $2,802,000;
that to do this the $635,859.20 received from the Federal government,
$1,654,355.55 state debt sinking fund
and the sum of $511,785.25
of the general fund was used. And he did not tell his audience, either, that when Governor Durbin was using this $511,785.- 25 from the general fund to pay on the state debt the state general fund tax was the same as it was in the year 1909 and 1912, when the Democrats used all the general fund tax
levy and the sum of $1,103,140.60
from the state debt sinking fund and the proceeds of a temporary loan of $460,000 to pay state administration expenses and closed the year of 1913
with only $52,893.18 to the credit of the general fund."

ONE INVASION U. S. IS AGAINST

Government Has Trained Corps of Men Fighting Importation of Pests of All Sorts

SOME NOTABLE EXAMPLES

Gypsy Moth, Most Destructive of all.
Introduced into Country by Harvard Astronomer.

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, April 29.—Uncle Sam is keeping continuous guard against invasion. The enemies against which corps of men are fighting are animal, insect and vegetable pests. Mrs. Charles W. Morse, whose pet ants were adjudged "undesirables" was the most recent sufferer by the regulation. The most classic of all examples is the English sparrows, but since 1905, the Government has strong weapons in quarantine laws passed that year, to prevent introductions of undesirable living things.

The most destructive pest ever introduced into the United States is the Gypsy moth. It was in 1869 that Trouvelot, an astronomer at Harvard University and an amateur entomologist of note, conceived the idea of breeding a hardy worm which would revolutionize the silk industry. He imported some gypsy moths from France, expecting to cross them with some native species. One day he left a window in his Bedford home here open. When he returned a mass of eggs laid by his gypsy visitors had disappeared—apparently it had blown out of the window.

At this point Trouvelot's experiments ceased. But their results did not. They are still with us and have cost the country millions of dollars. New England has been the hardest sufferer. For twenty years the gypsy moth attracted no attention. People of Medford, Mass., wondered at the destruction of their trees, but the damage remained local. Then, suddenly, the pest spread. Since then bitter warfare has been waged against it, and the victory is not yet won. The New England states alone spend thousands in the fight.

A great many people innocently bring home curios, plants and animals that are active agents of mischief. Hundreds of people have attempted to bring into the country as a curiosity the Australian flying fox. Unknown in the United States these overgrown bats, which oftentimes measure five feet across the wings are Australia's greatest pests. They ruin many orchards in their habitat.

The mongoose is another creature which individuals persist in trying to import. Rudyard Kipling wrote interestingly about Rikki-tikki-tavi, in "The Jungle Book" but the animal isn't by any means a charming, nice mannered creature. In India he is valuable because he kills snakes. But he is also partial to chickens, young pigs, kids, lambs, puppies, kitties, and certain vegetables and fruit. Therefore, he is banned from America. Once in a while however, individuals succeed in slipping one of the animals in. A Cape Cod farmer who had lost scores of chickens finally killed an animal who was apparently responsible for the damage. There was a great hue and cry about the new species of skunk he had discovered, but finally the authorities identified the little beast as a mongoose. How he got in nobody has yet found out.

Jamaica is alive with the pest, introduced by some misguided individual who thought they would rid the island of rats which caused havoc in the sugar cane fields. It was in 1872 that four males and five females were introduced. Their number increased amazingly and in 1890 the Government began fighting them. Still another instance of pests was the introduction of rabbits in Australia. They were originally brought to the island to furnish early settlers with sport. How expensive that sport is didn't appear until the bunnies had overrun the island. The government has spent millions fighting the pest, without having apparently reduced the number in the least.

The great danger about importing any kind of animal or bird or insect is that environment may change them completely. They may be perfectly proper things in their native haunts but horribly mischievous in their new surroundings. Biologists can't predict their habits. It is a fact, however, that a great majority of the pests introduced here have been vastly more destructive in America than they were abroad. They are freed from natural enemies—the natural "balance" is lost—they find a longer summer breeding season and the larger scale on which American agriculture is conducted does not permit as readily of restrictive measures as do the limited holdings and intensive cultivation of Europe. Europe it should be mentioned, has also suffered from pests sent to its shores from America, although for some curious reason native American pests do not seem to thrive in their transplanted state abroad. One notable exception however, is the phylloxera, a grape disease, introduced in France in 1859 which has devastated vineyards there. The San Jose scale, a pest of the first magnitude, was brought into California by an ardent horticulturist from China, on some Chinese apple trees. Incidentally, it is curious to note that from California the pest recrossed the Pacific and in its invigorated form, created havoc in Japan, where it had always been present, but never given real trouble.

Secretary Bryan found himself confronted with the quarantine rule when customs officials barred his llama, which was excluded with six others because they were suffering from the mange and also because of the fear they might bring with them the dread foot and mouth disease.

SOME REBELS TO SUPPORT HUERTA

Some Come Out With Dictator and Others Are Dickering For Material Benefits.

ALL ARE NOT UNDER ONE HEAD

Mexico City, April 29.—It is certain that the various revolutionary chiefs still are negotiating with the Huerta Government, and some of them already have come to an agreement. Those who have come to terms are the bands fighting in the states bordering the capital.

Deep mystery shrouds the actions or the intentions of the revolutionaries in the north. It must be borne in mind that the insurgents in the various parts of the republic are not united, but form independent bodies. They have arisen in revolt as opportunity afforded, and they have absolutely distinct demands and programs.

The submission of certain leaders does not necessarily mean a pacific tendency on the part of the revolutionists in general.

The Government may come to an understanding with certain rebels who are not aiming at assumption of power, but who are merely demanding certain material benefits, as in the case of the Indian rebels, who are warring against the others.

UNIFORMS FOR GUARDS

San Francisco, April 29.—A regulation army olive drab, with orange colored piping, was the uniform formerly adopted today for the guards at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Breeches cut on lines of the United States infantry uniform, leather puttees, military caps with tan leather visors, and olive drab overcoats will complete the uniforms. There are at present less than 100 guards on the Exposition grounds but this number will be increased to about 800 after the gates are opened.

BELIEVED PEACE PLAN WILL FAIL

No Apparent Headway is Made by A. B. C. Diplomats to Elect Settlement of Difficulties.

HUERTA MAKES SUGGESTION

Would Draw Three Other Powers In to it and Name Seventh as Umpire—Dictator Has Sport.

Washington, April 29.—Although principle of mediation has been accepted by this Government and by President Huerta no apparent headway has been made yet with the plan of the A. B. C. combination to effect a settlement between the United States and Mexico without a continuance of the war which began when the city of Vera Cruz was seized by Rear Admiral Fletcher a week ago.

The diplomatic representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chile spent the day in serious conference, but they had given inkling to no modus vivendi which gave promise of success.

The fact of the matter is that little hope is entertained by practical-minded men of the Administration or Congress that the conflict between the Administration and Huerta will yield to the mediation treatment.

So many reasons are being cited as to why mediation will fail and so few arguments advanced in support of it that if it were not for the buoyancy which naturally upholds those inspired with a grand idea even the proposed mediators themselves would doubtless be discouraged by the prospect which confronts them.

Dispatches received from Mexico City tonight are to the effect that General Huerta has suggested that the Board of Mediation consist of three European Powers that has recognized him as the de facto President of Mexico—Great Britain, France and Spain, probably—besides the A. B. C. nations of South America; furthermore, he is reported to have proposed that there be a seventh Power, Germany, for example, which also has recognized him, to act as umpire or final arbitrator of the dispute.

Plainly the wily Mexican Chief is having sport with the mediation proposal just as the average public man in Washington is regarding it with disdain and derision. One of the suggestions supposed to emanate from the trinity of Latin American intellects is the creation of a committee to take charge of the Government of Mexico pending the holding of a national election.

This would involve the immediate retirement of Huerta from the Provisional Presidency, a step he has absolutely refused to consider at the demand of the United States, even under penalty of having war forced upon him; it would also mean a suspension of hostilities between Huerta and the Constitutionalists, which in view of the steady progress made by the revolutionary party probably would be promptly rejected.

Thus far the A. B. C. diplomats have not made public any feature of their plan, and it remains to be seen whether they will suggest a feasible basis of settlement when they finally emerge from their meditations.

Nevertheless they are serving a useful purpose in producing a suspension of hostilities and a halting of the United States campaign while Americans are hastening out of the interior of Mexico.

THE RICH SOFT SHADE OF THE EGG PLANT, AN ATTRACTIVE COLOR FOR STREET AND AFTERNOON FROCKS

Aubergine is the name of this modish color and it is being used in all materials; in chiffon for the bodice, in silk for the afternoon gown and in serge, gabardine and various other materials for the tailored suit. Green is smart too, in all its shades; also many tones of red and brown. When black is used it is usually in taffeta or one of the other soft silks; black, however, is employed for trimming purposes and often affords a striking contrast combined with one of the bright colors. Aubergine faille is used in the afternoon frock shown in No. 8294; there is an inverted V-shaped vest of cream white batiste, cream frills finishing neck and sleeves, and drop shoulders. The skirt, which is a two-gored model, is finished with an applied tunic, slightly gathered and set on at yoke depth. Faille averages 42 inches in width and ranges in price from $1.50 per yard and up.

This costume may be copied in size 36 with 4 1/2 yards of 42-inch faille, or 5 1/2 yards of a 36-inch material.

A straight little peasant dress for a child of from 2 to 10 is shown in No. 8313. It closes at the side front, has elbow sleeves and a rolling collar.

A soft, pink voile is used here with trimming bands of silk-dotted mull.

This little dress requires, for a child of 8, 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

No. 8294—sizes 34 to 42.
No. 8313—sizes 2 to 10.

NOTICE

Of Improvement Resolution

Rushville, Ind., April 21, 1914.

To Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given by the Common Council of the City of Rushville, Indiana, that it is desired and deemed necessary to oil the streets of the City of Rushville, Indiana, as authorized by Improvement Resolution adopted by the Common Council on the 21st day of April 1914, said improvement resolution being in the words and figures as follows, to-wit:

Resolved by the Common Council of the City of Rushville, Indiana, that it is deemed necessary to oil in accordance with the profiles, details, drawings and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City of Rushville the traveled portion of the following streets and parts of streets, to-wit:

Morgan street from the north side of Water street to the north side of Eleventh street, Perkins street from the north side of East Sixth street to the north side of Eleventh street, Harrison street from Water street to the south side of Eleventh street, Jackson street from the first alley south of First street to Third street, Jackson street from the C. H. & D. tracks to Eleventh street, Sexton street from C. H. & D. to Eleventh street, Arthur street from Indianapolis Pike to Eleventh street, McClaren street from Third street to C. H. & D. Depot, Oliver street from south side of Seventh street to south side of Eleventh street, Pearl street from Second street to River, Palo Alto street from Second street to Avenue, Cerro Gordo street from Second street to Third street, Washington street from Second street to Indianapolis Pike, Hanna street from Shelbyville Pike to Indianapolis Pike, Spencer street from Shelbyville Pike to Indianapolis Pike, Julian street from First street to Third street, Willow street from south side of Seventh street to Ninth street, George street from Seventh street to Tenth street, Maple street from Tenth street to Eleventh street, First street from Main street to J. M. & I. R. R., Second street from Avenue to Spencer street, Third street from Julian street to Avenue, Fourth street from Perkins street to Arthur street, Fifth street from L. #### DAINTY BORDER DESIGN APPLIED TO A BUREAU SCARF

14065-14528

Plenty of dainty bureau-scarfs are in various sizes and styles for 15 cents. There are 6 of the large size letters and 12 of the smaller ones, suitable for making sets of linens. These initials may be used singly or they may be combined to form any two or three-letter monograms. For two-letter monograms buy two patterns, and for three-letter monograms buy three patterns.

When stamping a two-letter monogram, lay the letters in place, with the printed side down so that you can see the size and relative position of the monogram, remove the first initial, until after the last has been stamped, then place the first in position and stamp. For a three-letter monogram, first stamp the middle letter, then that of the surname, and last of all the initial of the first name.

Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer pattern will be supplied to readers upon receipt of price.

Initials or monograms are used for decorations as well as marking household linens, and the monogram P. L., used here, is taken from pattern No. 14528. This pattern includes 375 transfers of one initial

Shepherd Tells Anecdotes of Life in Southern Republic

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Vera Cruz, April 29.—Why Jim Montague—that is not his real name—had a strike of his Mexican miners, at Monterey goes like this:

Yellow fever appeared in the city, and, of course, the first effort of the doctors was to guard its spread. They ordered champagne for these persons who were rich enough to afford it to increase heart action and thereby ward off chances of getting the disease. For the Mexican peons were ordered small doses of strychnine, and Montague, before his miners went to work of mornings, used to line them up in rows and have the mine doctors give each man a spoonful of a strychnine solution.

Word got about among the Mexicans that Montague was trying to poison his miners. One of the Mexicans bested him got hold of the bottle of strychnine to see what it was. A hundred Mexicans looked on while a hungry dog ate a piece of meat over which the contents of a full bottle had been poured. A moment later a hundred Mexicans saw a Chihuahua dog turn up its toes and die. The strike began that night and it took two weeks for Montague to prove that he was not a wholesale "gringe" poisoner.

DON'T GROW BALD

Use Parisian Sage.

If your hair is getting thin, losing its natural color, or has that matted, lifeless and scraggy appearance, the reason is evident—dandruff and failure to keep the hair roots properly nourished.

Parisian Sage applied daily for a week and then occasionally is all that is needed. It removes dandruff with one application; almost immediately stops falling hair and itching head; invigorates the scalp and makes dull stringy hair soft, abundant and radiant with life. Equally good for men, women and children—every one needs it.

A large bottle of this delightful hair tonic can be had from F. B. Johnson & Co or any drug counter for 50 cents. You will surely like Parisian Sage. There is no other "Just-as-good."—Try it now.

steamed into Vera Cruz harbor among the Kankee gunboats the other day, many and many a cheer of recognition went up from some of the old Yankee seadogs.

"What are you cheering her for?" an old Yankee captain was asked.

"Reminds me of a funny incident," he answered. "When we were off to China during the Boxer trouble, we lay for weeks in the combined navy without anything to do. Finally the admiral took it into his head that we ought to have practice. To our surprise, as our five ships steamed away the German warships in the harbor swung around and followed us. Go where we would that day, we couldn't shake them. They hung on in a long solid stubborn line.

"The next day we were ordered out again and again the Germans, with stubborn persistence, followed us, never going faster or slower than we did. After four days of this, we got mad and the American officers sent over to the German ships a note in which they said they were very sorry that they always chose the same grounds on which the Germans decided to maneuver. It was sarcastic you see.

Three high German officers brought the answer back to us, in person. They came onto the flagship and said:

"You're not choosing the same grounds we do. We've been following you."

"But why do you follow us when we go out for secret practice?" they were asked.

"Why don't you see," replied the German officers, "we want to see what you are doing! We have no trouble with the United States, but, if we should have a war with you, it would be necessary for us to know about your tactics."

"And with that," continued the old seadog, "they bowed very politely and went off the ship, without any hard feeling on either side.

"The reason that I cheered for the Bremen was that she was the ship that used to lead that long line of squat-bowed German sleuths out to our practice grounds every day.

Among the cavalymen along the Rio Grande, waiting to come up here to the Mexican capital, if they get a chance, is Troop C of the 15th, the richest troop in the army. It isn't made up of rich men's sons, either, but most of its officers including Captain Warren Dean, and many of its privates are business men.

Just at present the troop has two acres of muskmelons planted, at Clint, Texas; owns 200 chickens, 20 hogs and has a cow and calf, all of which are or will be bringing money in for the troop mess. At last reports Dean was negotiating for a moving picture show in the small town of Clint, which would bring even more funds into the troop exchequer.

The biggest and finest ball ever given by a troop along the Rio Grande since the Mexican trouble started, was sponsored by Troop C. It cost $800 and folks attended from miles around.

FORGER AT WORK IN THIS PART OF STATE

Orders Goods Sent to Vacant House.

Writes Check For More Than Amount Due and Gets Change.

WAS RECENTLY IN RICHMOND

The clever forger that has been operating in Tipton, Frankfort and Richmond is believed to have gone to Richmond several days ago and successfully trimmed a number of the merchants of that city.

According to word which has been received from Richmond a man came there several days ago and purchased several articles from merchants. In payment for the purchases he gave checks for an amount considerably above the selling price of the article. Of course the merchants believing the checks good, gave him the balance in cash. Not until deliveries of the goods commenced did they learn that they had been stung. Every address that the man had given as his home proved to be an empty house. The clever forger could not be found after the trick he had played had been unearthed.

WARRANTS NOT YET ISSUED

No arrests have yet been made on the ten indictments returned yesterday by the grand jury. Clerk Taylor was busy today putting the indictments on the indictment record and had not issued the warrants to the sheriff, but expected to do so this afternoon late. Sheriff Cavitt, owing to the fact that it is quiet in the circuit court, will it is believed, make the arrest as soon as possible. The names of the indicted or the nature of the crimes are not known and will not be until the arrests are made.

"MOURNERS" ARRESTED

(By United Press.)

New York, April 29.—Upton Sinclair and four women members of the Liberal club, who organized a "mourning picket line" about the standard Oil office in protest against the action of John D. Rockefeller Jr., to arbitrate the Colorado strike differences were arrested today soon after they had started the picket. Sinclair wore crepe on his left arm. He began pacing slowly back and forth. Soon he was joined by the women and then the police arrested them.

HAS SOME RECORD

A. B. Irvin in his Franklin Six car equipped with Silvertown Cord tires pulled off a remarkable "stunt" yesterday evening. Accompanied by T. L. Heeb and Fred Heeb, he attempted a "Coast to Coast" run from Rushville to Connersville and return. An accurate record was kept of the actual distance coasted and although it seems nearly impossible the car coasted 7.7 miles on the going trip and 8.2 miles on the return trip, making a total of 15.9 miles for the entire trip, the distance travelled being 34 miles. Mr. Irvin has the original record in his office and is showing it with considerable pride to his friends.

DEATH TOLL IS COMPILED AT 180

Revised Figures on West Virginia Mine Horror Are Announced by Officials at Noon.

172 BODIES STILL IN MINE

Entrance to Pit Can Not be Gained Until Tonight When Deadly Cases Clear Away.

(By United Press.)

Eccles, W. Va., April 29.—A revised record at noon today, compiled by officials of the New River Collieries company, gave 180 as the total death list in the mine horror here.

A hundred and seventy-two victims are still in mine No. 5. All hope has been abandoned by rescuers that they may be brought out alive. An entrance to the pit can not be made until tonight when deadly gases have cleared away. Eight bodies were recovered today.

A hundred and eighty graves are being dug in the hills surrounding this village for the 180 bodies.

All hope that any of the 180 men entombed by an explosion in the New River mine here are alive was abandoned today. Frantic efforts at rescue were still progressing. There was little chance of gaining entrance to the gas filled and ruined shaft before late this afternoon.

With Governor Hatfield and other state officials at the mine today, the investigation of causes was all ready to proceed. The chief inspector was expected to begin the examination of witnesses this afternoon.

Of the 71 men who were buried in one shaft—No. 6-60 have been taken out alive and 11 dead; of the 100 known to have been in the other—No. 5—not one has been rescued.

Flames and smoke are belching from the crevices of the crumbled shaft, and, although all hope of saving any of the buried men has been abandoned, collier from miles around are risking their lives in an effort to snuff out the flames with earth and water.

The cause of the explosion has not been ascertained, and perhaps never will be known. The New River Company operates six mines at Eccles, Nos. 6 and 5 connect. At 2:30 this afternoon there was a slight explosion in No. 6 followed by another, slightly greater, in No. 5.

Ten minutes later the valley shook with the third blast in No. 6. The timbers over the main shaft, the ventilators and the cages were shot up to the sky and deposited far up the hillside.

The Virginian Railway suspended traffic and rushed a rescue crew of the Panama Coal and Coke Company at Matoaks, several miles away with a number of physicians and nurses.

The Superintendent also called for help from Beckley, another point on the Virginia Railroad, but the Matoak crew in charge of the Federal mine rescue car was the first to arrive. It was then nearly 6 o'clock. The men set to work, but were greatly hampered by the half-crazed women and children who crowded the entrances and endangered their lives near the flame-belching fissures.

It finally became necessary to arm the mines to drive the people back.

The rescuers cleared No. 6 mine and then started to reach No. 5 through the connecting walls of No. 6. The work is progressing slowly, and there is no likelihood that the workers can reach the imprisoned men until tomorrow afternoon.

The buffalo of the United States and Canada now number about three thousand

Music for the commencement will be furnished by the Wagoner orchestra of this city.

The members of the class are, the Misses Claudine Ballard, Sallie Ferree, Clara Darnell, Helen Fitzgerald, Philora Major and Francis Thompson, and Paul Green, Norman Harcourt, James Harcourt, Claude Spillman, Capp Miller and Robert Stewart.

PLEASANT A. DAVIS DEAD

Passed Away Near Orange After Long Illness.

Pleasant A. Davis, 31 years old, died this morning at one-thirty o'clock at his home, one-half mile west of Orange after a long illness from tuberculosis. Mr. Davis had been ill for about seven months and spent the winter in the south in the hopes of benefiting his health but it did little good. He had been home only five weeks. He is survived by his widow and two children, Margaret and Estie Davis. The funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at two o'clock in the Orange Christian church and burial will take place in the Orange cemetery.

The gas was escaping and had filled the oven full when Mrs. Ryker opened it and applied a match. The flames burst into her face and enveloped her arms.

APRIL SHOWERS ARE WELCOMED

Farmers Are Jubilant Over Heavy Downpour of Last Night Which Brings Out Greenery.

ARE A BIG HELP TO THE ROADS

Peculiar Condition Existing in County Because Apple Trees Are Not Yet in Bloom.

*****

FIRST CORN PLANTED

Will Campbell, living a mile and a half northwest of Milroy, planted corn on his farm yesterday. This is believed to be the first corn planted in Rush county this year. The season has been backward and spring farm work is several weeks behind.

The farmers of Rush county are jubilant today over the libations poured down on Mother Earth by Old Jupe Pluvius last night. The whole county was visited by a heavy rain some time early in the evening. The indications today were for showers. The air was cooled by the rain of last night and today was altogether pleasant. The humidity that generally lingers about between showers and makes fat folks hot under the collar was not apparent today.

Wednesday morning found the roads much benefited by the rain. Some of them had puddles standing in them during part of the morning but the efforts of Old Sol, the Haymaker, dried these up and it was found that most of the ruts had been filled by the dashing raindrops.

In some sections of the county road superintendents took advantage of the wet conditions to drag the roads and thus effectually fill up the ruts more than the rain had done. This it is thought, will put the highways in good condition for the better part of the summer.

Farmers say that the wheat and newly sown oats had been needing rain. The rain which came was of the right sort—a soaking one.

At the same time the mushroom hunters, of whom there are legion, are busy training their "mushroom dogs" and impatiently waiting for the time of the year when the delicious but elusive fungus may be found.

A peculiar condition exists as regards the fruit crop, it is said. Observers have pointed to the fact that the apple trees are not in bloom. This is very unusual, especially since all of the other kinds of fruit trees are now radiant with blooms. It is not the rule for the apple-trees to be later than any other fruit in blooming.

It is pointed out by fruit growers that frost and freezing weather is not responsible, else other fruit trees would not be blooming. The belief is expressed by many that the apple trees will not be very fertile this year because they were over-fertile last year. As a general rule the apple crop in Indiana last year was not very big, but the Rush county crop was the biggest in the history of the county.

RAILROAD EARNINGS GROW.

San Francisco, April 29.—The earnings of the Geary Street Municipal Street Railway are soaring. The total earnings for March, it was announced today were $58,969. This exceeds by $300 any previous month. The Union Street line, also owned by the city held up its end with a total of $29,715. The average daily earnings of the Union line was $958, and that of the Geary line $1,902.

El Paso, Tex., April 29.—The tense situation that has existed along the border was relieved today by receipt of private advices of Rebels in Chihuahua that the conference between General Carranza and General Villa had resulted in almost complete agreement.

MEDIATORS ASK ARMISTICE

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 29.—An armistice between Mexico and the United States has been asked by the A. B. C. mediators. The Brazilian ambassador today notified Secretary Bryan that this had been determined upon as the next step in the negotiation. He said Huerta had been notified. It was generally believed this nation would accept the provision provided assurance was given there would be no uprising against Americans in Mexico.

(By United Press.)

Vera Cruz, April 29.—The American land and naval forces holding Vera Cruz were augmented today when four destroyers joined the fleet in the harbor and the liner Morrow Castle pressed into service as a transport, arrived with 900 marines. An additional transport carrying troops also anchored in the harbor, but General Funston's Fifth brigade has not yet been landed.

Vera Cruz was quiet today and there were no disorders reported.

Last night, the first since the occupation of the city by the United States that Mexicans have been permitted to appear on the street after seven o'clock, passed quietly. The natives have accepted the American occupation with good grace now and practically normal conditions have been restored.

News reaching here that 48 more Americans have been arrested by the Federals at Cordoba, making a total of 84 who are in prison there, were as yet unconfirmed today.

An unconfirmed report says that six of the Americans imprisoned there have been taken out and killed. Admiral Fletcher and Consul Canada are making an investigation.

D. F. Anderson, of Texas, Manager of the Mexican Land and Cattle Company, is reported to have been killed at Cosmolopam, about 60 miles south of Vera Cruz, by a mob that went to the Hotel Cosmopolitan last Saturday night to beat him to death because he was an American.

General Funston came ashore and immediately had a long conference with Admiral Fletcher. It was arranged that the troops of the Fifth Brigade should gradually replace the marines and blue jackets, the infantrymen taking positions along the outer lines, as fast as they come

MEETING SET FOR TONIGHT

New Officers of Gun and Country Club Will be Elected.

The postponed annual meeting of the Rushville Gun and Country club will be held at the Rushville National bank this evening. The first meeting which was called was so poorly attended that it was decided to hold another session when a more representative attendance could be depended on. It is urged upon the members that they be present tonight. The chief business of the meeting will be to elect new officers and discuss plans for the summer.

TESTIFIES FOR MAYOR ROBERTS

Usual Spectacle of Prosecutor on Stand For Defense Witnesses at Terre Haute Today.

C. FAIRBANKS IMPLICATED

Terre Haute, Ind., April 29.—The unusual spectacle of a prosecuting attorney testifying for a defendant was given here today when Richard Werneke, prosecuting attorney for Vigo county, testified for Mayor Roberts on trial for election frauds. Werneke testified against various assertions made by witnesses for the state. He is now in charge of the investigation of election frauds.

Chalmers Hamill, former special prosecutor investigating election frauds here, made a statement today in which he implicated Crawford Fairbanks, millionaire brewer and Democratic politician. He said that Judge Fortune was informed shortly before the Taggart-Fairbanks-Roberts-Fortune conference in Indianapolis that Fairbanks would be called before the grand jury "thirty minutes after he leaves town." He was also told that the jury expected this week to indict Tom Beggs, Fairbanks' partner, for election frauds.

RICHARD W. MCKEE DEAD

PROGRAM TO BE FINISHED SOON

Woman Suffrage Will be One of Chief Topics of Discussion at Meeting of Club Women.

WILL BE IN RICHMOND IN MAY

Rush County Women Are Preparing to Attend Convention of District Federation.

Rushville and Rush county women are already making preparations to attend the annual convention of the sixth district Federation of Women's Clubs which will be held in Richmond May 21 and 22.

It is earnestly desired by the club women of Rushville that Rush county will be largely represented at this meeting. This year, it is pointed out, the Rush county club women should begin making their preparations early so as to have the largest delegation present. Last year the sixth district meeting was held at Liberty and Franklin county had the largest delegation.

May 22 will be the biggest day of the two, and it is urged that if local club can not attend both days, that they choose the last day in preference to the first. It is hoped to make this the biggest day the district club women have ever known.

It is declared that it is the duty of every club woman to do her part to help Mrs. J. M. Hamilton of Brookville, the district chairman, who is doing all within her power for the good of the cause. Mrs. Hamilton hopes to have the complete programs ready in a few weeks.

It was announced yesterday by the president of the Richmond federation that woman suffrage will be one of the chief topics for discussion. The woman's suffrage committee of the state federation has asked that it be permitted to have speakers on the program.

Arrangements will be made to accommodate the committee when the program is made out in its entirety next Saturday. Other state departments that have asked to be permitted to send representatives are the blind children's department and the department of library extension.

An exhibit of the manual work of the blind children of the state school will be placed in the public art gallery in the high school building, according to the Richmond Item. It, with the Richmond school exhibit

Why the Advertised Goods are Generally Better

A manufacturer who spends a great sum of money in making his trademark known is building for the future.

That trademark is valuable to him only so long as he makes good.

His investment in good will pay him dividends only so long as he retains that good will.

He has set a high mark and must live up to it.

Manufacturers are turning today to the daily newspapers for their advertising campaigns, because they find that through them the "Good Will" they value so highly can be built up at less expense to themselves than in any other way.

HOME VEGETABLE GARDEN BOOMED

Department of Agriculture Believes

this Better Than "Monkeying"

Around With Flowers

PLANS FOR CHICKEN RAISING

Two Popular Ways Known as the

"Intensive" and "Colony" System.

Both Considered Good.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 29.—The Department of Agriculture is booming the home vegetable garden. Every suburbanite would be better off in devoting his time more to development of edibles than to "monkeying" around with flowers in the plot back of his bungalow, according to the Department's experts.

A half acre devoted to various kinds of garden crops will easily supply a family with $100 worth of vegetables during the year. A bountiful supply of fresh vegetables close at hand, however, is of more importance even than the money value. The Department has just issued a handy little book telling all needful things about the home garden.

First of all, the booklet advises that the land have sufficient fall to drain off the surplus water during heavy rains, but not so much fall that the soil is washed away. The garden surface should not contain depressions where puddles can remain. A good fence around the plot is indispensable. The soil should be well plowed up and pulverized. Hand spading is unnecessary.

Nearly every city dweller sooner or later gets enthusiastic on the subject of chicken raising. So do the country dwellers, for that matter. There has been many wonderful stories of fortunes made out of chicken and egg production. But the prospective chicken raiser must learn his work and do things scientifically, if he expects to get profits.

One of the first things to be learned about chicken raising, in the opinion of the Department has just made public in a little booklet, experts' recommendations for a poultry house that is suitable to practically every climate.

Be it known there are two popular ways in which to raise poultry—the "intensive" and the "colony" system. The first claims to have steps. Long stationary houses are used. It is easier, however, to keep birds healthy and reproduce stock under the second system, the Department believes.

Under the colony plan, the fowls are allowed free range, the houses, which hold about 100 hens each being placed from 200 to 500 feet apart, so that the stock will not kill the grass.

This system may be adopted to severe winter conditions by drawing the colony houses together in a convenient place at the beginning of winter. The "intensive" system is more suited for hens used solely for the production of market eggs than for these used to brood stock.

Fences mean an outlay of money and this outlay is more or less continuous as they must be maintained after being installed. There should be as few fences as possible dividing the lots and the yards, as land can be kept "sweet" more easily if not fenced, and fresh, sweet land is a valuable asset in poultry raising.

On good soil a greensward may be kept up by allowing 200 to 250 square feet of land per bird. This means 217 or 174 birds to the acre. Plymouth Rocks and the other heavy variety meat birds in small yards require fences 5 to 6 feet high, while a fence 6 or 7 feet high is necessary for Leghorns.

All poultry buildings and fences should be painted or whitewashed. The latter is the cheapest of all paints and may be used for exterior or interior surfaces. It can be made by slaking about 10 pounds of quicklime in a pail with 2 gallons of water, covering the pail with a cloth or burlap and allowing to slake for one hour. Water is then applied to bring the whitewash to a consistency which may be applied readily.

The Horticultural Board is out with a warning against seed found in holes of imported Egyptian cotton. Faulty ginning occasionally leaves these seeds. They should be burned as the larvae of the pink bell worm may be contained in the seeds. This pest is very destructive to American cotton. Ginning and storing does not kill the larvae. The "bugs" have been found to withstand seven month storage in cotton.

A strict quarantine has always been maintained against the pink worm. An agent of the Horticultural Board is now visiting northern and southern mills to investigate the amount of infection by the worm in cotton introduced from Egypt.

WITNESSES TALK TODAY.

Washington, April 29.—The Interstate Commerce Commission was scheduled today to proceed with its investigation into the affairs of the Billard Company, which controls the New Haven railroad holdings. Solicitor Folk hoped that armed with proper power to force testimony and documentary evidence from defiant witnesses who at first refused to testify and later agreed to do so, the case would be ready for further procedure today.

A Warning to Many

Some Interesting Facts About Kidney Trouble.

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1912, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper, enclose ten cents and they will gladly forward it to you by Parcel Post.

Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00. (Advertisement.)

We Have Noticed that a FLEA is In a Class by Himself

when it comes to getting results—no matter how big his territory he covers it and after he covers his territory you know he has been there. The only difference between the territory we work in the buggy business and the territory the flea works in is we leave everybody in a satisfied frame of mind and we reckon the flea doesn't. There are lots of fellows selling buggies, however, that are like the flea. They jump over lots of territory, get a bite here and there and don't care whether you are satisfied or not, but we do want your business all the time and that is the reason we make our buggy guarantee as good as old line life insurance. We tell you what to expect from a buggy we sell you and then see that you get it. That is the way we are going to keep what we have and build more. We want you in on this proposition and extend you an invitation to call on us for your vehicle needs.

San Diego, April 28.—Hawane Officer Muttors today sent a formal appeal to the government to make its wireless station at Point Lema stop killing pelicans. Pelicans used to be thick in San Diego harbor. Now there are only a few of them. Muttors is sure the powerful radio waves which the station sends out do the mischief. He says he has seen scores of birds suddenly stricken in mid-air fall dead into the water. The waves might be toned down, he thinks, so as to do less danger.

San Diego, April 28.—Hawane Officer Muttors today sent a formal appeal to the government to make its wireless station at Point Lema stop killing pelicans. Pelicans used to be thick in San Diego harbor. Now there are only a few of them. Muttors is sure the powerful radio waves which the station sends out do the mischief. He says he has seen scores of birds suddenly stricken in mid-air fall dead into the water. The waves might be toned down, he thinks, so as to do less danger.

—Mrs. Alva Junken and children of Henderson were shoppers in this city today.

—Mrs. Mary Smith of Arlington was a business visitor in this city this morning.

—C. J. Rozelle returned to Anderson this morning after a short business trip to this city.

—Willie Ward returned to his home in Henderson this morning, after being employed in this city.

—Thomas Wright of Center township is spending the week here with his daughter, Mrs. O. P. Dillon.

—W. S. Rollins of North Vernon came this morning to spend the rest of the week the guest of friends.

—Miss Ruby Bales of Raleigh left yesterday for Kalamazoo, Mich., where she will spend the summer.

—Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Batchelor left this morning for Martinsville, where they will visit for a few days.

—Mrs. Earl Hunter and little child went to Connersville this morning for a brief visit with friends and relatives.

—Earl Osborn and Paul McMahan were in Connersville last night and saw the Al Fields' minstrel show at the Auditorium.

—Walter F. Easley and Frank Priest were in Connersville last night and saw Al G. Fields' minstrel show at the auditorium.

—E. Julian returned this morning to his home in Remington, Ind., after spending a couple of days, the guest of relatives in this city.

—Mrs. Ella Hungerford of Milroy was in this city this morning on her way to Newcastle, where she will visit relatives for a short time.

—I. C. Schreck, train master of the Michigan division of the Big Four, and whose home is in Wabash, was the guest of the local force today.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cottingham and family of north of Carthage were in this city this morning, enroute to North Vernon, where they will live permanently.

—The Rev. F. B. Stearns has returned from Fowler where he closed a tabernacle revival meeting Sunday night. At the closing meeting there were a thousand people in the audience and many more on the outside who were unable to get in. Delegations came by train from Goodland, Boswell, Oxford and other surrounding towns.

Society News

Mrs. Raymond Bowles was hostess for the Embroidery club of Raleigh this afternoon.

The Bridge club will be entertained tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. O. M. Dale at her home in North Main street.

The meeting of the Auction Bridge club, which was to have been held tomorrow night has been postponed one week on account of the rehearsals for the senior play.

Miss Jessie Stoops' daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Stoops, and Bruce Beck, were quietly married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Taylor in West Tenth street at noon by the Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church. They will be at home in their newly furnished home in North Jackson street. Both are popular clerks at the Maunzy company who have a wide circle of friends.

A surprise was given last evening at the home of Miss Ella Wilson, in East Second street, on Miss Jessie Stoops and Bruce Beck, who will be married soon. The employees of the Maunzy Company store gave the surprise. Twenty-three persons were present. The decorations that were carried out were violets and an orange tree in full blossom made up the back ground. Everyone present had a good time, the evening being spent in a sociable way.

The Ladies Musicale will hold the last meeting of the year this evening at the home of Miss Jessie Kitchen in West Third street. The active members are requested to be present by 7:30 o'clock as a short business session must be held to finish up the business of the year. The meeting is open for guests and the program will begin promptly at 8 p. m. It is as follows:

a. Dance of Gnomes, Benjamin Whelpley; b. Serenade, Benjamin Whelpley—Miss Jessie Kitchen, Mrs. Hugh Maunzy.

Les Preludes, F. Lizi—Mrs. Hugh Maunzy, Miss Jessie Kitchen.

Miss Susana Horr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Horr, and Joseph H. Buschmohle, were married in the presence of a large company of guests at the Catholic church this morning at seven o'clock by the Rev. M. W. Lyons. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents at eight o'clock. There were forty guests. The bridal party sat at a large table in the center of the room. The bridal table was decorated with a large basket of flowers. The guests sat at small tables, each of which were decorated with small bunches of violets. Miss Margaret Carroll was bridesmaid and Tom Horr, brother of the bride, was the bridegroom's man. The Misses Mary Ellen Carroll, Mary Moorman, Beatrice Mack and Marie McKee served at the wedding breakfast. The guests from a distance were Miss Elizabeth Buschmohle of Cincinnati, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Matilda Boyce of Fort Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Buschmohle will be at home in South Harrison street after May 1. They left this morning for Louisville, Ky., for a wedding trip.

Amusements

The Portola will show a two reel Selig drama "The Up-Hill Climb" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a dramatic production and features Bessie Clayton. The other is a drama "The Winning Mistake."

The Princess will show the feature production "Through Fire to Fortune" or "The Sunken Village" for tonight. It is in five parts and is said to be one of the most remarkable pictures ever made. The thrilling scenes are a fire in a coal mine and then the sinking of the village. It is a Lubin picture and besides the thrilling and wonderful scenes a beautiful story is told.

The Gem offers a two reel 101 Bison feature "Her Father's Guilt" for the first picture tonight. William Clifford, Sherman Bainbridge and Phylliss Gordon are featured. It is said to be a thrilling picture telling a dramatic story. The other is a Joker comedy entitled "The Tender Hearted Sheriff." Max Ascher is featured. Tomorrow night Lois Weber will be featured in the Rex drama "Woman's Burden."

PROGRAM TO BE FINISHED SOON

will be a special attraction at the gallery during the convention. An attendance of at least 300 delegates is expected.

Reports of the different committees will be received the afternoon of May 21. The first meeting will be held in the high school auditorium that evening. Prof. Harlow Lindley will deliver an address on "The History of Wayne County." A reception in the art gallery will follow the program. Miss Vida Newsom of Columbus, Ind., president of the state federation will deliver an address the afternoon of May 22.

The chief social event of the convention will be the reception to delegates on the lawn of the residence of William Dudley Foulke by the members of the old Cycle club the afternoon of May 21. If the weather is inclement the reception will take place in the Morrison-Reeves library. Women of the South Eighth Street Friends church will serve luncheon for the delegates at the church at noon of that day.

The Commercial club has promised to place automobiles at the disposal of the women for a sight seeing expedition about the city. The Garfield orchestra and the high school orchestra will be on the program during the convention.

Delegates will be entertained in private homes.

Terre Haute Ever With Us.

Ever now and then we hear from Terre Haute. It has long since been proved that conditions there are

worse than any other city in the state
and it is not at all surprising to note
the thing which has not happened. It is very evident that the rotten condition of Democratic politics in Indiana has directly brought on the present circumstance, which amounts to nothing more than the thwarting
of justice.

Donn M. Roberts, mayor of Terre Haute, who has been on trial for a few weeks for election frauds, is recognized as the premier of politicians in Indiana, with the exception of Tom Taggart. His present state of affluence is largely due to the backing
of Crawford Fairbanks, the millionaire brewer of Terre Haute.

But that is nothing more than the stage setting. Judge Chas. M. Fortune
started in a few months ago to clean
thoroughly the rottenness out of the Vigo county seat. He was progressing very well, with the valuable assistance of Joe Rouch, a pardoned
murderer, and Chalmers Hamill, another special prosecutor who has had charge of the probing grand jury. The investigations could not be conducted
in any other way because the prosecutor, Dick Werneke, was one of the men under indictment.

The evidence showed that the prosecution had enough to convince any reasonable jury that the lieutenant in Terre Haute who had been debanching the election should be sent to prison. In fact, one of Roberts'
aids has already been sent up for a
term of years.

But yesterday Judge Fortune threw
a bomb into the camp of the prosecution. He dismissed the special prosecutor, Hamill, and the grand jury, on
the pretext that the county council
would not appropriate any more funds for the probe. The grand jurors and prosecutor straightway offered to work for nothing, but Judge
Fortune carried out his pre-arranged
plans.

In a statement, Hamill said he had agreed from the first to work for nothing, and when he accepted the appointment, he had an understanding with Judge Fortune that the prosecution should be pushed to the very end without fear or favor. He made a serious charge in closing as follows: "At the time the grand jury

was dismissed Judge Fortune knew
that within the period of this week
there would be returned a number of indictments for the most serious offenses; he also knew that the grand jury was going to investigate the recent primary of April 24, which from the slight investigation I was able to make I believe was colossal in its crime.

"In his action I feel that Judge Fortune has not only violated every
duty which a judge owes to members of a bar, but has broken every agreement and promise which he made to
me at the outset of the investigation."

The grand jury also issued a long
statement in which it was pointed out the body was in the midst of the investigation of astounding law violations which would have resulted in revealing even more startling things
and in the bringing of even graver
charges.

The Indianapolis News made some pretty plain statements last night in describing the meeting in Indianapolis, which, it is intimated, was largely contributory to the action of Judge
Fortune. The News brings to light
the astounding fact that Fairbanks,
Taggart, Roberts and Fortune were
all housed in the Denison hotel in Indianapolis at the same time. Of course, since there is no absolute
proof, it is not charged outright that
the deal was planned in the Denison,
but it will have to be admitted that it
looks mighty suspicious. Those four men were in the hotel at the same time and a person has a right to guess, at least, that they held a conference.

Some're Tom's Wit.

Tom Worthington must have his little jokes. He has just returned from his usual sojourn in the southeastern insane hospital at Madison. It is just like taking a trip to Florida every winter, steam heat and everything like that, you know. Tom is quite a wit, as you must know, because Sunday, soon after his return
here, he mounted the top of the Peoples National bank building and walked about the topmost ledge reeling
and waving his hands.

Tom is reported to have told a story of the little joke he has on one of the guards at Indiana's institution. Tom once sighted a clock on the wall. He surveyed it at length and then asked the guard what it was.

"Why, it's a clock, of course, you
fool," replied the guard.

"Does it keep time," persisted Tom.

"Yes," answered the guard.

"Is it all right?"

"Of course, it's all right," said the guard with finality, and turned on his heel.

"What's it doing here, then," demanded Tom.

he took it willingly, as the taste is delicious. In a short time I noticed a great improvement in his appetite. He soon had more color in his cheeks. He is now well like other children and

REPLIES TO THE STATE AUDITOR

Statement From Republican State

Headquarters says he Juggled

Figures in Marion Speech

WHEN REPLYING TO MAXWELL

Handly Administration Turned Over

to Marshall a Neat Balance Instead of a Deficiency

The Republican state committee last
night gave out a statement replying
to the address of Auditor of State
O'Brien at Marion last Thursday night. O'Brien at that time replied
to the "keynote" speech of Howard Maxwell, temporary chairman of the Republican state convention.

O'Brien attempted to show that
Maxwell had misrepresented the Democratic state administration,
which he charged with extravagance.

The statement follows in part:

"The state auditor says that the Handly administration turned over to the Marshall administration a deficiency of $1,400,000. Instead of this he should have said that the Handly administration paid all maturing bills and appropriations in 1908 and turned a general fund balance of $493,117.46 over to the Marshall administration in 1909, for this is what the auditor's ledger and his
printed reports show.

"The state auditor makes the statement that Maxwell neglected to state that in 1908 the Handly administration expended $506,778.30 more than is collected. The answer to this is that Mr. O'Brien should have said that the year of 1907 closed
with a general balance fund of $897,- 627.61; that in 1908 the Handly administration paid all bills over to his successor for 1909, $493,117.46. He should have said further that buildings erected during the Handly administration made slow progress in 1907 and allowed the money to accumulate in the treasury, but in 1908
these buildings were being pushed to completion and the treasury was called on to pay for the work done
in 1908 that should have been done
in 1907. Mr. O'Brien referred to the payments of the old war claim of $635,859.20 and that Governor Dur-
bin applied this on the state debt.
But Mr. O'Brien did not tell his audience that during the Durbin administration there was paid on the state debt the grand sum of $2,802,000;
that to do this the $635,859.20 received from the Federal government,
$1,654,355.55 state debt sinking fund
and the sum of $511,785.25
of the general fund was used. And he did not tell his audience, either, that when Governor Durbin was using this $511,785.- 25 from the general fund to pay on
the state debt the state general fund
tax was the same as it was in the year 1909 and 1912, when the Democrats used all the general fund tax
levy and the sum of $1,103,140.60
from the state debt sinking fund and
the proceeds of a temporary loan of $460,000 to pay state administration
expenses and closed the year of 1913
with only $52,893.18 to the credit of
the general fund."

ONE INVASION U. S. IS AGAINST

Government Has Trained Corps of Men Fighting Importation of Pests of All Sorts

SOME NOTABLE EXAMPLES

Gypsy Moth, Most Destructive of all.
Introduced into Country by Harvard Astronomer.

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, April 29.—Uncle Sam is keeping continuous guard against invasion. The enemies against which corps of men are fighting are animal, insect and vegetable pests. Mrs. Charles W. Morse, whose pet ants were adjudged "undesirables" was the most recent sufferer by the regulation. The most classic of all examples is the English sparrows, but since 1905, the Government has strong weapons in quarantine laws passed that year, to prevent introductions of undesirable living things.

The most destructive pest ever introduced into the United States is the Gypsy moth. It was in 1869 that Trouvelot, an astronomer at Harvard University and an amateur entomologist of note, conceived the idea of breeding a hardy worm which would revolutionize the silk industry. He imported some gypsy moths from France, expecting to cross them with some native species. One day he left a window in his Bedford home here open. When he returned a mass of eggs laid by his gypsy visitors had disappeared—apparently it had blown out of the window.

At this point Trouvelot's experiments ceased. But their results did not. They are still with us and have cost the country millions of dollars. New England has been the hardest sufferer. For twenty years the gypsy moth attracted no attention. People of Medford, Mass., wondered at the destruction of their trees, but the damage remained local. Then, suddenly, the pest spread. Since then bitter warfare has been waged against it, and the victory is not yet won. The New England states alone spend thousands in the fight.

A great many people innocently bring home curios, plants and animals that are active agents of mischief. Hundreds of people have attempted to bring into the country as a curiosity the Australian flying fox. Unknown in the United States these overgrown bats, which oftentimes measure five feet across the wings are Australia's greatest pests. They ruin many orchards in their habitat.

The mongoose is another creature which individuals persist in trying to import. Rudyard Kipling wrote interestingly about Rikki-tikki-tavi, in "The Jungle Book" but the animal isn't by any means a charming, nice mannered creature. In India he is valuable because he kills snakes. But he is also partial to chickens, young pigs, kids, lambs, puppies' kitties, and certain vegetables and fruit. Therefore, he is banned from America. Once in a while however, individuals succeed in slipping one of the animals in. A Cape Cod farmer who had lost scores of chickens finally killed an animal who was apparently responsible for the damage. There was a great hue and cry about the new species of skunk he had discovered, but finally the authorities identified the little beast as a mongoose. How he got in nobody has yet found out.

Jamaica is alive with the pest, introduced by some misguided individual who thought they would rid the island of rats which caused havoc in the sugar cane fields. It was in 1872 that four males and five females were introduced. Their number increased amazingly and in 1890 the Government began fighting them. Still another instance of pests was the introduction of rabbits in Australia. They were originally brought to the island to furnish early settlers with sport. How expensive that sport is didn't appear until the bunnies had overrun the island. The government has spent millions fighting the pest, without having apparently reduced the number in the least.

The great danger about importing any kind of animal or bird or insect is that environment may change them completely. They may be perfectly proper things in their native land but horribly mischievous in their new surroundings. Biologists can't predict their habits. It is a fact, however, that a great majority of the pests introduced here have been vastly more destructive in America than they were abroad. They are freed from natural enemies—the natural "balance" is lost—they find a longer summer breeding season and the larger scale on which American agriculture is conducted does not permit as readily of restrictive measures as do the limited holdings and intensive cultivation of Europe. Europe it should be mentioned, has also suffered from pests sent to its shores from America, although for some curious reason native American pests do not seem to thrive in their transplanted state abroad. One notable exception however, is the phylloxera, a grape disease, introduced in France in 1859 which has devastated vineyards there. The San Jose scale, a pest of the first magnitude, was brought into California by an ardent horticulturist from China, on some Chinese apple trees. Incidentally, it is curious to note that from California the pest recrossed the Pacific and in its invigorated form, created havoc in Japan, where it had always been present, but never given real trouble.

Secretary Bryan found himself confronted with the quarantine rule when customs officials barred his llama, which was excluded with six others because they were suffering from the mange and also because of the fear they might bring with them the dread foot and mouth disease.

SOME REBELS TO SUPPORT HUERTA

Some Come Out With Dictator and Others Are Dickering For Material Benefits.

ALL ARE NOT UNDER ONE HEAD

Mexico City, April 29.—It is certain that the various revolutionary chiefs still are negotiating with the Huerta Government, and some of them already have come to an agreement. Those who have come to terms are the bands fighting in the states bordering the capital.

Deep mystery shrouds the actions or the intentions of the revolutionaries in the north. It must be borne in mind that the insurgents in the various parts of the republic are not united, but form independent bodies. They have arisen in revolt as opportunity afforded, and they have absolutely distinct demands and programs.

The submission of certain leaders does not necessarily mean a pacific tendency on the part of the revolutionists in general.

The Government may come to an understanding with certain rebels who are not aiming at assumption of power, but who are merely demanding certain material benefits, as in the case of the Indian rebels, who are warring against the others.

UNIFORMS FOR GUARDS

San Francisco, April 29.—A regulation army olive drab, with orange colored piping, was the uniform formerly adopted today for the guards at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Breeches cut on lines of the United States infantry uniform, leather puttees, military caps with tan leather visors, and olive drab overcoats will complete the uniforms. There are at present less than 100 guards on the Exposition grounds but this number will be increased to about 800 after the gates are opened.

BELIEVED PEACE PLAN WILL FAIL

No Apparent Headway is Made by A. B. C. Diplomats to Elect Settlement of Difficulties.

HUERTA MAKES SUGGESTION

Would Draw Three Other Powers In to it and Name Seventh as Umpire—Dictator Has Sport.

Washington, April 29.—Although principle of mediation has been accepted by this Government and by President Huerta no apparent headway has been made yet with the plan of the A. B. C. combination to effect a settlement between the United States and Mexico without a continuance of the war which began when the city of Vera Cruz was seized by Rear Admiral Fletcher a week ago.

The diplomatic representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chile spent the day in serious conference, but they had given inkling to no modus vivendi which gave promise of success.

The fact of the matter is that little hope is entertained by practical-minded men of the Administration or Congress that the conflict between the Administration and Huerta will yield to the mediation treatment.

So many reasons are being cited as to why mediation will fail and so few arguments advanced in support of it that if it were not for the buoyancy which naturally upholds those inspired with a grand idea even the proposed mediators themselves would doubtless be discouraged by the prospect which confronts them.

Dispatches received from Mexico City tonight are to the effect that General Huerta has suggested that the Board of Mediation consist of three European Powers that has recognized him as the de facto President of Mexico—Great Britain, France and Spain, probably—besides the A. B. C. nations of South America; furthermore, he is reported to have proposed that there be a seventh Power, Germany, for example, which also has recognized him, to act as umpire or final arbitrator of the dispute.

Plainly the wily Mexican Chief is having sport with the mediation proposal just as the average public man in Washington is regarding it with disdain and derision. One of the suggestions supposed to emanate from the trinity of Latin American intellects is the creation of a committee to take charge of the Government of Mexico pending the holding of a national election.

This would involve the immediate retirement of Huerta from the Provisional Presidency, a step he has absolutely refused to consider at the demand of the United States, even under penalty of having war forced upon him; it would also mean a suspension of hostilities between Huerta and the Constitutionalists, which in view of the steady progress made by the revolutionary party probably would be promptly rejected.

Thus far the A. B. C. diplomats have not made public any feature of their plan, and it remains to be seen whether they will suggest a feasible basis of settlement when they finally emerge from their meditations.

Nevertheless they are serving a useful purpose in producing a suspension of hostilities and a halting of the United States campaign while Americans are hastening out of the interior of Mexico.

THE RICH SOFT SHADE OF THE EGG PLANT, AN ATTRACTIVE COLOR FOR STREET AND AFTERNOON FROCKS

Aubergine is the name of this modish color and it is being used in all materials; in chiffon for the bodice, in silk for the afternoon gown and in serge, gabardine and various other materials for the tailored suit. Green is smart too, in all its shades; also many tones of red and brown. When black is used it is usually in taffeta or one of the other soft silks; black, however, is employed for trimming purposes and often affords a striking contrast combined with one of the bright colors. Aubergine faille is used in the afternoon frock shown in No. 8294; there is an inverted V-shaped vest of cream white batiste, cream frills finishing neck and sleeves, and drop shoulders. The skirt, which is a two-gored model, is finished with an applied tunic, slightly gathered and set on at yoke depth. Faille averages 42 inches in width and ranges in price from $1.50 per yard and up.

This costume may be copied in size 36 with 4 3/4 yards of 42-inch faille, or 3 3/4 yards of a 36-inch material. A straight little peasant dress for a child of from 2 to 10 is shown in No. 8313. It closes at the side front, has elbow sleeves and a rolling collar. A soft, pink voile is used here with trimming bands of silk-dotted mull. This little dress requires, for a child of 8, 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

No. 8294—sizes 34 to 42.
No. 8313—sizes 2 to 10.

NOTICE

Of Improvement Resolution

Rushville, Ind., April 21, 1914.

To Whom It May Concern:—
Notice is hereby given by the Common Council of the City of Rushville, Indiana, that it is desired and deemed necessary to all the streets of the City of Rushville, Indiana, as authorized by Improvement Resolution adopted by the Common Council on the 21st day of April 1914, said improvement resolution being in the words and figures as follows, to-wit:—

Resolved by the Common Council of the City of Rushville, Indiana, that it is deemed necessary to all in accordance with the profiles, details, drawings and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City of Rushville the following portion of the following streets and parts of streets, to-wit:—

Morgan street from the north side of Water street to the north side of Eleventh street, Perkins street from the north side of East Sixth street to the north side of Eleventh street, Harrison street from Water street to the south side of Eleventh street, Jackson street from the first alley south of First street to Third street, Jackson street from the C. H. & D. tracks to Eleventh street, Sexton street from C. H. & D. to Eleventh street, Arthur street from Indianapolis Pike to Eleventh street, McClure street from Third street to C. H. & D. Depot, Olive street from south side of Seventh street to south side of Eleventh street, Pearl street from Second street to River, Palo Alto street from Second street to Avenue, Cerro Gordo street from Second street to Third street, Washington street from Second street to Indianapolis pike, Hanna street from Shelbyville Pike to Indianapolis Pike, Spencer street from Shelbyville Pike to Indianapolis Pike, Julian street from First street to Third street, Willow street from south side of Seventh street to Ninth street, George street from Seventh street to Tenth street, Maple street from Tenth street to Eleventh street, First street from Main street to J. M. & L. R. R. Second street from Avenue to Spencer street, Phillet street from Julian street to Avenue, Fourth street from Perkins street to Arthur street, Fifth street from L. E. & W. to Perkins street, Sixth street from Harrison street to Morgan street, Main street to Perkins street, Seventh street from Posey Lane to Sixth street intersection, Eighth street from Posey Lane to Fort Wayne Road, Ninth street from Posey Lane to George street, Tenth street from Posey Lane to Maple street, Eleventh street from Morgan street to Maple street.

And such improvement is now ordered.

The costs of said improvement, including the costs of street and alley intersections shall be assessed upon the estate abutting on each of said streets, respectively and upon the City of Rushville, Indiana, if the said City is benefited by said improvement; all according to the method and manner provided for in the Act of the General Assembly, State of Indiana, entitled "An Act Concerning Municipal Corporations," approved March 6th, 1905, and Acts Amendatory and Supplemental thereto.

Under no circumstances shall the City of Rushville, Indiana, be or be held responsible for any sum or sums due from said property owners or owners from said work or for the collection of the same or for the payment of any bond, bonds, certificate or certificates issued to said Contractor in payment for such work, except such moneys as shall have been actually received from the City for assessments for such improvement, or such moneys as said City is by said above entitled Act required to pay. All assessments, payments and all proceedings had and work done in the making of said improvement, assessment of property, collection of assessment and payment therefor shall be as provided for in the above entitled Act and Amendments thereto.

The work done in the making of said described improvement shall be in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Improvement Resolution as adopted by the Common Council on the above named day, and details, drawings, plans, profiles and specifications which are on file may be seen in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Rushville, Indiana.

The Common Council has fixed Tuesday, the 12th day of May as a day upon which remonstrances may be filed and heard by persons interested in or affected by said described public improvement and on said day at 7:00 p. m. said Common Council will meet at the Council Chamber in said City of Rushville for the purpose of hearing and considering any remonstrances which may have been filed or which may be presented, and will hear all persons interested or whose property is affected by said proposed improvement and will decide whether the benefit that will accrue to the property abutting and adjacent to the proposed improvement, and to said City, will be equal to or exceed the estimated cost of the proposed improvement as estimated by the City Civil Engineer.

Witness my hand and seal of City of Rushville, Indiana.

DAINTY BORDER DESIGN APPLIED TO A BUREAU SCARF

14065-14528

Plenty of dainty bureau-scarfs are in various sizes and styles for 15 cents. There are 6 of the large size they should always be kept fresh to give a neat appearance to the room. These initials may be used singly or as a border, initials or sprays, gives them a touch of individuality to the scarf. This border, No. 14065, illustrated on a bureau-scarf, is 1 1/4 inches wide, and the pattern contains 6 yards for 10 cents. The flowers may be developed in solid work and the dots in cycles. The bureau-scarf may be made of fine lawn, batiste or handkerchief linen and embroidered in white or a color. This simple design is also suitable for trimming waists, dresses, neckwear and underwear.

Initials or monograms are used for decorations as well as marking household linens, and the monogram P. L., used here, is taken from pattern No. 14528. This pattern includes 375 transfers of one initial in receipt of price.

When stamping a two-letter monogram, lay the letters in place, with the printed side down so that you can see the size and relative position of the monogram, remove the first initial, until after the last has been stamped, then place the first in position, stamp. For a three-letter monogram, first stamp the middle letter, then that of the surname, and last of all the initial of the first name.

Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer pattern will be supplied to readers upon receipt of price.

Shepherd Tells Anecdotes of Life in Southern Republic

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(U. F. Staff Correspondent.)

Vera Cruz, April 29.—Why Jim Montague—that is not his real name—had a strike of his Mexican miners, at Monterey goes like this:

Yellow fever appeared in the city, and, of course, the first effort of the doctors was to guard its spread. They ordered champagne for these persons who were rich enough to afford it to increase heart action and thereby ward off chances of getting the disease. For the Mexican peons were ordered small doses of strychnine, and Montague, before his miners went to work of mornings, used to line them up in rows and have the mine doctors give each man a spoonful of a strychnine solution.

Word got about among the Mexicans that Montague was trying to poison his miners. One of the Mexicans bested him got hold of the bottle of strychnine to see what it was. A hundred Mexicans looked on while a hungry dog ate a piece of meat over which the contents of a full bottle had been poured. A moment later a hundred Mexicans saw a Chinaman dog turn up its toes and die.

The strike began that night and it took two weeks for Montague to prove that he was not a wholesale "gringo" poisoner.

When the old German warship Bremen—really nothing more than a scout-ship, now owing to her age—

DON'T GROW BALD

Use Parisian Sage.

If your hair is getting thin, losing its natural color, or has that matted, lifeless and scraggy appearance, the reason is evident—dandruff and failure to keep the hair roots properly nourished.

Parisian Sage applied daily for a week and then occasionally is all that is needed. It removes dandruff with one application; almost immediately stops falling hair and itching head; invigorates the scalp and makes dull stringy hair soft, abundant and radiant with life. Equally good for men, women and children—every one needs it.

A large bottle of this delightful hair tonic can be had from E. B. Johnson & Co. or any drug counter for 50 cents. You will surely like Parisian Sage. There is no other "Just-as-good."—Try it now.

steamed into Vera Cruz harbor among the Kankee gunboats the other day, many and many a cheer of recognition went up from some of the old Yankee seadogs.

"What are you cheering her for?" an old Yankee captain was asked.

"Reminds me of a funny incident," he answered. "When we were off to China during the Boxer trouble, we lay for weeks in the 'combined navy' without anything to do. Finally the admiral took it into his head that we ought to have practice. To our surprise, as our five ships steamed away the German warships in the harbor swung around and followed us. Go where we would that day, we couldn't shake them. They hung on in a long solid stubborn line.

"The next day we were ordered out again and again the Germans, with stubborn persistence, followed us, never going faster or slower than we did. After four days of this, we got mad and the American officers sent over to the German ships a note in which they said they were very sorry that they always chose the same grounds on which the Germans decided to maneuver. It was sarcastic you see.

Three high German officers brought the answer back to us, in person. They came onto the flagship and said:

"You're not choosing the same grounds we do. We've been following you."

"But why do you follow us when we go out for secret practice?" they were asked.

"Why don't you see," replied the German officers, "we want to see what you are doing. We have no trouble with the United States, but, if we should have a war with you, it would be necessary for us to know about your tactics."

"And with that," continued the old seadog, "they bowed very politely and went off the ship, without any hard feeling on either side.

"The reason that I cheered for the Bremen was that she was the ship that used to lead that long line of squid-bowed German sleuths out to our practice grounds every day.

Among the cavalrymen along the Rio Grande, waiting to come up here in the Mexican capital, if they get a chance, is Troop C of the 15th, the richest troop in the army. It isn't made up of rich men's sons, either, but most of its officers including Captain Warren Dean, and many of its privates are business men.

Just at present the troop has two acres of muskmelon planted at Clint, Texas; owns 200 chickens, 20 hogs and has a cow and calf, all of which are or will be bringing money in for the troops mess. At last reports Dean was negotiating for a moving picture show in the small town of Clint, which would bring even more funds into the troop exchequer.

The biggest and finest hall ever given by a troop along the Rio Grande since the Mexican trouble started, was sponsored by Troop C. It cost $800 and folks attended from miles around.

FORCES AT VERA CRUZAUGMENTED

It took the transports 74 hours to bring the troops here from Galveston—almost as long as it took Scott to bring his troops here in sailing vessels 65 years ago. The Meade and the Sumner are obsolete. They were able to make less than eight knots.

So slow was their progress that the battleship Louisiana kept her cables on deck ready to tow the transports. General Funston on the Kilpatrick, became extremely impatient, and at his request the Kilpatrick forged several miles ahead of the others.

FORGER AT WORK IN THIS PART OF STATE

Orders Goods Sent to Vacant House, Writes Check For More Than Amount Due and Gets Change.

WAS RECENTLY IN RICHMOND

The clever forger that has been operating in Tipton, Frankfort and Richmond is believed to have gone to Richmond several days ago and successfully trimmed a number of the merchants of that city.

According to word which has been received from Richmond a man came there several days ago and purchased several articles from merchants. In payment for the purchases he gave checks for an amount considerably above the selling price of the article. Of course the merchants believing the checks good, gave him the balance in cash. Not until deliveries of the goods commenced did they learn that they had been stung. Every address that the man had given as his home proved to be an empty house. The clever forger could not be found after the trick he had played had been unearthed.

WARRANTS NOT YET ISSUED

No arrests have yet been made on the ten indictments returned yesterday by the grand jury. Clerk Taylor was busy today putting the indictments on the indictment record and had not issued the warrants to the sheriff, but expected to do so this afternoon late. Sheriff Cavitt, owing to the fact that it is quiet in the circuit court, will it is believed, make the arrest as soon as possible. The names of the indicted or the nature of the crimes are not known and will not be until the arrests are made.

"MOURNERS" ARRESTED

(By United Press.)

New York April 29.—Upton Sinclair and four women members of the Liberal club, who organized a "mourning picket line" about the standard Oil office in protest against the action of John D. Rockefeller Jr., to arbitrate the Colorado strike differences were arrested today soon after they had started the picket. Sinclair wore epe on his left arm. He began pacing slowly back and forth. Soon he was joined by the women and then the police arrested them.

HAS SOME RECORD

A. B. Irvin in his Franklin Six car equipped with Silvertown Cord tires pulled off a remarkable "stunt" yesterday evening. Accompanied by T. L. Heel and Fred Heel, he attempted a "Coast to Coast" run from Rushville to Connersville and return. An accurate record was kept of the actual distance coasted and although it seems nearly impossible the car coasted 7.7 miles on the going trip and 8.2 miles on the return trip, making a total of 15.9 miles for the entire trip, the distance travelled being 34 miles. Mr. Irvin has the original record in this office and is showing it with considerable pride to his friends.
